With F.M.I.

Your Herald has asked the Secretary of State to provide an official copy of the voting record of Messieurs Kubiak and Patterson for publication. A series of charges and counter-charges has risen through stories in the Austin twin-dailies about the two young candidates for re-election to the new Texas House District No. 36.

Each has played a part in "Dirty 30" reform efforts in the past legislature and we have a copy of that voting record on file, those actions which have focused reform on Texas politics. Without explanation, it means little to use.

We think the voting record will tell more than what each candidate earned as an individual or as a representative of the two former districts which have been melded by forces outside their control.

The flak generated by isolated data in individual stories really becomes a non-issue smokescreen through which both candidates, or any candidates in a race, must burn their energies.

The issues with which Rep. Kubiak and Rep. Patterson dealt are those they voted on in the past general and special session. The pattern of what kind of representative each is tells considerable about what kind of representative the winner in this primary will be in the new district of Williamson, Milam and Falls Counties. It will probably show each man trying to represent in conscience his previous electorate through his own experience and training.

The public has a right to know what these men earn and what they do. But the public should be more interested in what they stand for.

It may come to a question of conservative vs. liberal, practical vs. ideal, or many another combination of alternatives interesting to the voting public.

Your Herald is planning an edition for all candidates from congress to precinct, both party primaries, sample ballots, voting information for the area in the May 4 edition, two days before the primaries. Maybe that will help. It will be the fifth in 14 years.

Both men subscribe to this newspaper, the subscriptions paid at the same time through House funds, suggesting theirs may be a race of state-wide interest. The Dallas News has sent a reporter through here recently to survey the interest in politics. I happened to be out of the office when he was in town. The Austin papers have run several articles on the two candidates in the past 10 days.

Williamson County has just about as much population as Falls and Milam Counties combined. The numbers game is working about even for each candidate. Crossovers may well balance out to an extremely close result, divided perhaps by a few hundred votes May 6.

This is as good a reason as any to try to find out what the record is.

Your Herald's efforts toward good government over the years have been considered naive at times, but they have also struck a chord among politicians, newspapermen and public alike. We all have watched national politics degenerate into a primary track meet across the country which in 1972 seems only to convince the voter the whole thing is a game. Simplicity is the key to good government. Somehow the issues are lost in the rhetoric and the responses to the responses exemplified in the Kubiak-Patterson race.

Theirs is not the only one, and that is the point. When do we get off each other's back and straighten out a system worth modernizing, but preoccupied with personalities which a growing literate electorate finds absurd?

If this game continues, critics of our system may be proven right: that the basic institutions of government are created by genius and reduced to ashes by mediocrity and incompetence.

You may think all this is fun, like watching a soap opera. But I am convinced dictatorship will be an alternative if we fragment like a kids' ballgame when the boy who owns the ball takes it home.

Mondrik are sworn in by City Atty. Ed Magre at the council meeting Tuesday.

Western Parade Saturday Will Kickoff Rodeo

Highlighting some of the Youth Rodeo activities set for Friday and Saturday will be a parade through downtown Cameron Saturday afternoon at 3:30. The parade will travel the usual parade route, ending out at Wilson-Ledbetter Park, site of the rodeo.

At least 30 horses and riders will be in the parade, along with old-fashioned buggies, tractors, and a sound truck.

After the parade, there will be pony rides for children at W-L Park.

The Youth Rodeo gets underway with its first performance at 8 p.m. Friday night. About 80 contestants are expected to be entered in the events. Another performance is set for Saturday night.

Admission will be $1 for adults and 75 cents for students.

Prizes for contestants will consist of silver belt buckles.

Events scheduled for the rodeo include calf roping, for ages 16-19; bull riding for 16-19; ribbon roping ages 10-15 and 16-19; barrel racing, both; pole bending, both; goat tying, both; breakaway roping 10-15 and team event, for boys and girls.

The Yoe High senior class is sponsoring the rodeo to raise money for their senior trip.

Local Scouters Join Litter Cleanup Effort

Local Scouters and adult leaders will join in the nation's biggest single litter cleanup drive Saturday, April 29, as their part in the second annual Scouting Keep America Beautiful Day.

Homer Bower of Rockdale, acting chairman of the Texas District, Boy Scouts of America, which encompasses Milam County and parts of Robertson and Falls Counties, said the local effort is part of a nationwide drive for a cleaner America.

Bower said that more than 200 youngsters and their leaders composing 16 units in the Texas District "will literally comb the streets, parks and other public places to pick up litter on this special day."

City Council Welcomes Newly Elected Mayor

The reins of city government passed from Mayor E. A. Perrin to new Mayor Gene Blake at a regular meeting of the city council Tuesday evening.

Outgoing Mayor Perrin welcomed Blake and new councilman Lincoln Mondrik and told them they had a "fine group" to work with, speaking of the council and department heads, the office force and the police force. Mayor Blake, Mondrik and Lester Turner were sworn in and the meeting was conducted by the new mayor.

Blake recommended naming Robert Clark as mayor pro tem and recommended that present department heads be retained. He also made the same recommendation for Ed Magre, city attorney, Bob Ellett, city judge, and Buddy Fuller, city secretary. Council unanimously approved his recommendations.

In other business, council approved appointment of Monroe Fuchs to fill the vacancy on the Urban Renewal Board created when Blake resigned. Council also moved to re-appoint the entire board for two-year appointments.

Council also okayed a special use permit for a mobile home to be parked at 916 West 8th to be used for a personal residence. A large group of residents appeared to endorse the request, made by Hubert Knight.

Requests were heard for using volunteer firemen as helpers for the police force at the Saturday performance of the planned Youth Rodeo. Council approved with the understanding that the volunteers would not have police authority.

New Store Sets Grand Opening

The new Lewis-Chill Shoe Store will celebrate its grand opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The new store is located at the corner of East 1st and North Central.

Registration will be held for 25 pairs of shoes which will be given away Saturday.

The new store is one of the relocated businesses in the downtown urban renewal area.

Little League Sets Adults Meeting

There will be an organizational meeting for Little League adult workers Monday, April 24 at 7 p.m. at the Little League ball park.

New officers for the coming year will be elected. The meeting is for adults only -- both men and women are urged to attend.

Law Officers Investigate 9 Breakins

Milam County Sheriff's Department is investigating a series of breakins and attempted breakins that have been reported all over the county.

Investigators are being aided by fingerprint experts from the Department of Public Safety at Austin. Sheriff Carl Black listed these breakins and attempts:

Saturday night at Edgeworth on the county line northwest of Buckholts the Rasco home was broken into and house furnishings taken, including a gun, television set and a sewing machine.

Sunday night the Maraksville Catholic Church was broken into. Nothing was taken but church statues and other things were piled by the door in readiness for taking out. The church is left unlocked.

At Milano, the Enco service station and Twin Oaks Cafe was broken into but nothing was taken. This happened Monday night.

Also at Milano Monday night the front door of the school was prized open and intruders ransacked the superintendent's desk, but nothing was taken.

At Davilla Monday night thieves went into the Moore Washateria and tried to prize the locks off the change and money boxes.

An attempt was made Monday night to break into the Crush store.

The school superintendent at Lexington reported that the school was broken into Monday night and gasoline was stolen.

A $100 reward has been offered for information about a break-in at the Landers summer home south of Thorndale near Conoley. The house was robbed of furnishings including a television set, meat, and other items.

A television set and sewing machine and other house furnishings were stolen from the Daniels home at Forest Grove Saturday night.

Walled Lake Door Stops Open Pit Burning

James Wilkerson, plant manager for Walled Lake Door Co. in Cameron said this week that the local plant has discontinued open pit burning of refuse following an airplane surveillance check by Air Pollution Control from Waco.

Wilkerson said they were informed by the Federal Air Pollution control people that smoke coming from their burner did not exceed present pollution control laws but would have to be cut when a new law goes into effect in December, 1973.

He said Walled Lake Door had installed a smoke cleaning "second burner" in their plant at Eagle Bend, Arizona and this type of system would probably be added to the burner in Cameron before the 1973 deadline. "The second burner is an extremely expensive piece of equipment, but it has passed all Federal pollution regulations," he said.

Wilkerson said the bulk of material burned at the local plant was sawdust. "Every plant that works with wood has this problem," Wilkerson said. He said that although sawdust is used in the making of many products and for farm use there is a limited market in this area. "We have three or four truck loads a day to dispose of," Wilkerson said.

He said one of the Walled Lake Door plants in Mississippi had been forced to stop burning and were presently hauling their sawdust to the city disposal grounds. "This has caused a problem for the city because they don't have facilities to handle it."

Four Waive Trial For Cattle Theft

Three men and a woman pleaded guilty Monday to cattle theft in Milam County District Court, and two were sentenced to terms in prison. The other two received probated sentences.

Waiving a jury trial were Mrs. Karen Kay Hendrix, Russell Bankston, Joe Ed Hendrix and Byron B. Christian, all of Rockdale.

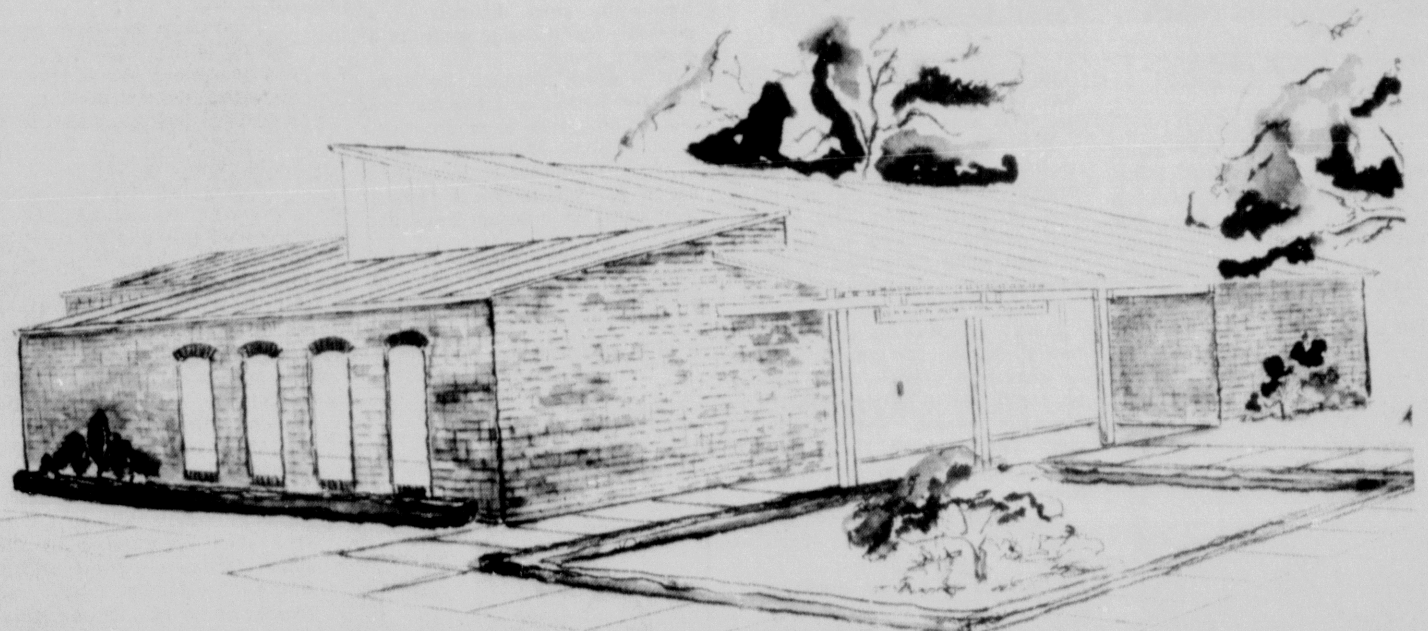

Christian and Hendrix were sentenced to five years in prison. District Judge W. C. Wallace took under advisement their application for probation.

Formal sentencing and ruling on the application will be held on April 28.

Mrs. Hendrix and Bankston were each given two-year probated sentences.

Library Week In Cameron...

This is National Library Week. Cameron has one of the finest library programs for its size in Texas.

Book count has reached 10,000, including 1,200 new volumes since January, probably the fastest gain since the structure was opened.

It is currently showing the Fifth National Drawing Show made possible by the Friends of the Library and the Texas Fine Arts Association.

Records are available on loan and books from larger libraries in the Texas Library System may be obtained through the Cameron Public Library.

The public meeting area of the library is used frequently by Friends of the Library and other organizations wishing to bring speakers or hold receptions in pleasant, modern surroundings.

Sections of the library include a children's department, a mid-teen department, mysteries, vinyl-covered volumes of all subjects and a growing list of volumes in the basic reading areas.

A full and parttime librarian keep things humming at Cameron Public Library and such attractions as summer reading programs for youngsters keep books a thing of the present in the Cameron area.

It is but six years since this structure was opened, transferring about 3,000 volumes to the Third Street location. Book count has been more than tripled since that May, 1966, opening.

Perhaps library is a misnomer, considering the way this institution functions in Cameron. It is more a cultural center for the arts and letters, music, research, art, drama a part of its many faceted program.

Leadership is and has been strong for this program. You can see the results during this National Library Week.

Schools On The Move...

A bond election in Hearne Independent School District carried 432 to 257, or almost two to one, last week.

It is another sign that school patrons in the Central Texas area recognize the need for modern school facilities. The proposal was for $598,000.

It is a signal that Cameron Schools are timing their planning at an opportune time, not only for support by school patrons, but for improvements and construction really needing support. Rosebud-Lott only recently dedicated a new facility Caldwell has gone through a bonding program, prior to the current question of constitutionality of Texas school bond programs.

Rockdale board members only last week heard requests for a 25 percent increase in valuations, not just across the board, but in appraisal equalization.

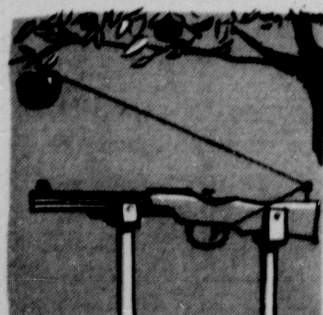

Schools are much on the minds of Milam area patrons.

And Cameron is working toward a program which will have good support for the school things we need.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Booby Trap for Trespassers

"NO TRESPASSING" signs, posted on Harper's farm, failed to discourage teenagers in the neighborhood from stealing his apples. Finally he set a booby trap in the form of a spring gun, cocked and ready to fire.

Sure enough, that very night a trespassing youth touched off the gun and received a bullet in the leg. In due course, the victim filed suit against Harper for damages. At the trial, the latter insisted he had a right to use force to protect his property against intruders who were bent on mischief.

But the court held that the method he had chosen was too drastic, merely for the prevention of petty theft. The judge said deadly weapons could not be used when there was no personal danger to either the property owner or his family.

Generally speaking, a property owner cannot use greater force by means of a booby trap than he could use if he were on the scene in person. Even vicious dogs, left at large, have been frowned upon as a kind of booby trap.

"A savage dog," observed one judge, "is a dangerous instrument."

Nonetheless, milder measures may be justified. Take this case: A suburban home owner, tired of having trespassers tramping across his lawn, stretched a barbed wire fence from a corner of his house to a corner of the lot.

Not long afterward, a man was hurt trying to scale the fence. Suing for damages, he charged that such a fence was "meant to injure people."

But the court decided that the fence, with its barbs in plain sight, was meant simply to make trespassing more difficult — a perfectly legitimate purpose for a property owner.

It is worth mention, however, that this particular fence was not placed alongside a public sidewalk. In some communities, that would be forbidden by local ordinance. Reason: too much chance of injuring an innocent passerby.

Rubbish Forms Mountain

By George Vine
Reuter Correspondent

BONN

A man-made mountain composed of millions of tons of household rubbish is taking shape outside Gelsenkirchen, West Germany.

Sometime about the year 2000 when it reaches its planned height of 250 feet landscape gardeners will move in and convert it into a rural retreat for cramped city dwellers.

The old automobile tires, bottles, iron stoves, tins and discarded baby buggies, will be covered with earth and rocks, and planted with trees. It will be come part of the surrounding countryside.

City planners in the Ruhr industrial region, one of the most densely populated areas in the world, believe this is the only feasible way of disposing of the avalanche of rubbish which is the by-product of modern living.

An expert on refuse disposal testifying to a parliamentary committee in Bonn said West Germany, with a population of 57,000,000, is throwing away 458 million cubic yards of rubbish every year.

The costs of disposal are rapidly multiplying and are now running at $93.60 a year per person this expert reckoned.

The Bonn parliament has just passed anti-pollution laws compelling local authorities to pay more attention to protection of the environment.

About 48,000 refuse dumps throughout the country will have to be closed and covered because of the stricter regulations coming into force.

Some local authorities are examining fresh methods of composting rubbish and of burning it in power stations. In the Ruhr area three mammoth central dumping sites have been selected including the dump outside Gelsenkirchen.

The Ruhr, with its many coal mines and iron foundries, has considerable experience in camouflaging unsightly slag heaps with grass and trees.

Every day 1,000 disposal vehicles from 40 towns and cities converge on the slowly rising site at Gelsenkirchen.

City sanitation departments have calculated that at the present rate of increase the volume of waste will double in the next 10 years.

German housewives doing the family shopping bring home every day something like 1,700,000 plastic bags and containers.

Plastic is one of the biggest nightmares for refuse disposal men because it does not rot and is difficult to destroy.

When burned it develops such a fierce heat that it can destroy the incinerators. Nearly 100,000 tons of plastic go into rubbish bins every year.

Chemists are now working to discover a type of plastic which will have a limited life and disintegrate after a certain time.

The man-made hills of waste are going to provide geologists of future centuries with a rich field of speculation as to their origins.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

As I understand it, a Washington commission after a year's study on the effect of television on children has reported that America should take a second look at the sort of T.V. being served up to its youngsters. Too much violence, crime and that sort of thing.

Aside from the fact that you can indeed get a second look at the programs, now that the season for re-runs has started, I have been thinking about this matter and have come to the conclusion the commission should broaden its investigation.

It should now make a study of the effect of the world on children.

There's far too much violence, crime and that sort of thing going on in the world to allow children to be brought up in it.

How can we expect children to grow up and be as good as we are when today's news is crammed with crime and violence and yesterday's history from the time history began is filled with the same? In this connection it ought to be pointed out that that man who started a newspaper with nothing but good news in it went broke.

Shielding a child from television is one thing, but shielding him from the world presents a problem which I will leave to the next commission, on which I will not have time to serve.

The television problem however is not limited to the United States. I read in a paper last night that Russian parents are complaining about children's T.V. programs over there. They say they aren't interesting enough. Can't keep a kid glued to the set.

One Russian mother said "I saved my money and bought a television set especially so that while I'm at work my son would not pointlessly chase a football outdoors all day -- and that with bad children at that. But there are few programs for him and most of them are uninteresting."

This just goes to show how problems can vary around the world. Over here we're trying to cut down on our children's T.V. viewing so they'll get out and play, over there they're trying to increase their children's viewing so they'll stay indoors and not be outside playing football.

I thought so. Who has Russia ever beat in football?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Letters to the Editor

April 10, 1972

Dear Editor:

Recently our present Congressman again suggested that a scenic parkway be built in his district. The Congressman has been talking about this for many, many years and nothing has been done about it, but he now brings it up during a political campaign. Throughout the district it was reported as "wonderful"; however, the LONGVIEW JOURNAL on March 21 summed up my sentiments very well, "A third grade drop-out can spend 15 minutes with a copy of the Texas Almanac and figure out how to traverse the same route, proposing a boondoggle like this one, 2,000 miles from the cradle of the 'birth' we will be celebrating and making available to a few at the expense of all makes you wonder if there really are all those advantages to the seniority system."

Being a taxpayer and an interested Central Texan, I believe the people of the 11th Congressional District could do better if a change were made in this district.

Respectfully,
H. F. "Buster" Loyd

get a self-cleaning electric range.

You'll never have to scrape and scour those spill-overs again... because a modern, self-cleaning electric range does it automatically! You just slip surface unit drip-pans in the oven, set the dial and forget the mess. Your electric oven whisks away all the grime and baked-on grease from walls, shelves and pans. And the cooking elements clean themselves on high heat.

Dependable, economical electricity makes cooking a real pleasure, too, because there are so many special work-saving features available on electric ranges. Like cook-and-hold automatic controls that keep the roast warm and moist till serving time. An instant hot water tap. And even automatic stirrers that leave your hands free for other jobs while the gravy's cooking.

County Agent's Notes

Dry Weather Hurting Crops

By Bill McCutchen

The crop situation in Milam County is deteriorating quite rapidly as a result of continued dry weather.

A lot of cotton has been planted the last couple of weeks with some stands disappointing and replanting not uncommon.

Cotton and grain sorghum herbicides have been ineffective in many instances due to lack of moisture to activate the chemicals.

Insects have been plaguing grain sorghum fields with buildups of chinch bugs and corn leaf aphids very common. Infestations have not been heavy enough to warrant spraying to date and a good rain would probably help this situation also. No damaging greenbug infestations have been noted to date.

Pastures and ranges have been suffering for a long time and hot weather and hot dry winds last week left Milam County looking more like mid-July than mid-April. Drouth is beginning to have an adverse effect on cattle prices.

SHRUBS AND LAWNS

Newly planted shrubs and trees should receive particular attention now, as they can be easily lost from dry weather. Frequent soaking waterings are advisable on these unestablished plants.

Lawns and established plants should be watered less frequently but care should be taken to water to a depth of several inches. Frequent light watering encourages shallow rooting of plants, greater susceptibility to drouth damage.

A mulch would be very effective around trees, shrubs, and flowers in conserving moisture and in discouraging weed growth.

SCREWORM IS BACK

The screwworm is back and with a vengeance this year. Most cattlemen can remember the daily round-ups and doctoring cattle for screwworm cases before this program was initiated. Now is not the time to get lax. Livestock will have to be inspected more often this season as screwworm infestations have already been found in Central Texas as far North as Hamilton County.

An unusually mild winter in many portions of Mexico and in overwintering areas of South Texas has resulted in large fertile fly populations that are now triggering case outbreaks in many areas of Texas.

I would urge close observation of all livestock and pets. When you find worms in wounds, collect a sample for the Mission Screwworm Lab and then treat the wound with approved smears.

Man-Power in Supermarkets

The male shopper, though in the minority, more often than not is the primary shopper for his household, according to a recent survey. On the average, he is a 43.7 year old high school graduate with a family income of $11,285 per year, and he spends an above-average $10.46 on each of 2.3 shopping trips a week for his family of 3.2 persons.

Fresh meat is the item he purchases most often, regardless of his age or income group. Frozen foods, dairy products, fresh produce and other items that need frequent replacement also account for a high percentage of his purchases.

Abel Wins Conservation Top Honor

Henry Abel has been named as the Outstanding Conservation Farmer in Area V for the State of Texas. Since there are five areas in the state this means that Henry is among the five top conservation farmers in the state.

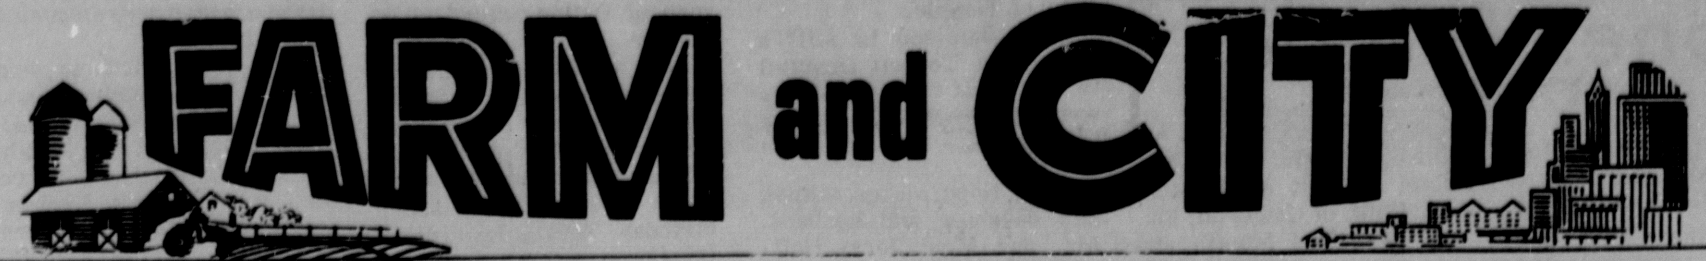

Henry's competition was in 33 other Soil and Water Conservation Districts which includes an area in the state from Taylor on the south to the Red River on the North.

Henry's farm is located in the Sharp community of Milam County where he was raised. He owns and operates about 1,000 acres of land. Henry carries out a diversified program consisting primarily of cotton, grain sorghum, cattle and hogs.

The award is presented in recognition of Henry's excellent and extensive conservation accomplishments in caring for the land, for his help and guidance to his fellow man in this respect, for his unselfish service on the conservation district board, for his missionary work in bringing an emphasis of resource conservation education into the schools of the district.

Also for his sponsorship and participation in Soil Stewardship Sunday Observations, for his work with the youth of his community in conservation essay contests, for his activities with watershed programs, for his present concern with land use regulations and with total environment, for his many activities with related agricultural problems and programs and there are others.

The Little River - San Gabriel Soil and Water Conservation District has another champion to add to the list of past area and state winners.

OUTSTANDING conservationist Henry Abel, one of five farmers in the State receiving the award.

4-H Activities

By Danny Phillips

Someone said Milam County had moved into stronger and tougher 4-H competition, but when the smoke had cleared after the District 10 Eliminations Saturday, April 15, Milam 4-H'ers had gathered their share of the top spots in the talent-packed contests. Eliminations at the District level are divided into Junior Divisions, Age 9-13 and Senior Division ages 14-19. For Senior winners it means a chance to participate in the Texas 4-H Roundup June 6, 7 and 9th.

Contests were held this year on the campus of St. Edwards University in Austin. Thirty-five 4-H'ers and 11 adult leaders and agents journeyed by bus to the contest. After opening remarks in the general assembly, the District 4-H Girl Vice Chairman, Donna Zapalack wished the 4-H'ers good luck in their respective contests.

Brian Cobb of Cameron qualified for State competition Saturday in the Natural Resource Demonstration. Brian's demonstration centered around Milam County's industry attempt to conserve our present ecology. Brian was the only 4-H'er, besides the poultry team from Milam County to qualify for state. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Cobb of Cameron.

Lynn Ann Faulke of Thorndale combined her poise and talent to capture first place honors in the Junior Division of Girls Public Speaking. Theme of her speech was "A Certain Look". Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Faulke of Thorndale.

Another Thorndale 4-H member and his cousin from the neighboring Rockdale Club swept 1st place honors in the Jr. Horse Demonstration. John Caffey of Thorndale and Leroy Stephens of Rockdale combined their talents in a demonstration about horse equipment and took to best all other teams in their division. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Caffey and Mr. and Mrs. Boy Stephens.

Food Costs in Perspective

The cost of food represents a declining percentage of the average American's disposable income, falling from 22.2 percent in 1950 to 16.6 percent in 1970. During the same period, disposable income per person increased an average of 146 percent. Retail value of beef consumed as percentage of disposable income during period decreased from 2.7 percent to 2.5 percent. Pork was even more impressive, declining from 2.5 percent to 1.4 percent.

Beef for Burgers

Surveys indicate that it is not always the most lean beef that makes the best burgers. Both ground beef and ground chuck are especially good for "hamburgers" or beef patties.

Remember the Parents Club Spaghetti supper and Bingo Friday night. Tickets will be $1 for adults and 50¢ for children. Serving will begin at 7 p.m. in the lunchroom followed by the bingo games in the school house. Coffee and pie will be sold in the school during bingo.

The original plans for the proceeds was for new playground equipment, but the lunchroom is going to have to have some improvements and repairs, so it was decided to use the money to help with this.

Mrs. Lizzie Rains of Houston visited relatives here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beere of San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Phillips of Houston and Miss Beadle Kilpatrick of Temple visited during the weekend with B. J. Kilpatrick, who was a patient in the Hearne hospital. Mr. B. returned to San Antonio with the Beeres after his release from the hospital.

Mrs. Sarah Bowling spent several days last week in the Hearne hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gene Shaw, Billy Wayne, Donna and Connie went to Houston last Thursday evening and visited until Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Cass and children have moved to Lexington.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Smith were in Hearne at the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Alfa Dotson where they attended a barbecue honoring the Dotson's son, Dr. and Mrs. James A. Dotson and children of Houston and the son's in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Chatman who were visiting from their home on the Isle of Wright, England.

Koye Cass, Ray Cass, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lee, Craig, Kelly and Lance and the Roy Gene Millers and Regina of Milano and Terry Hill of Hearne had lunch in Hearne Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Albright and Marsha.

It's the time of year to put extra emphasis on "cleaning up the town" (cutting the weeds, picking up all the cans, bottles and other trash). It is less than a month until our annual Mother's Day Homecoming. Let's all do our part.

Mrs. Elizabeth Underwood of Hearne was over Sunday to visit and attend church with Mr. and Mrs. Mike Rains.

Amazing new gas oven ends scrubbing.

You can cook with this oven 365 days a year and never have to scrub it. Because it actually cleans itself as it cooks!

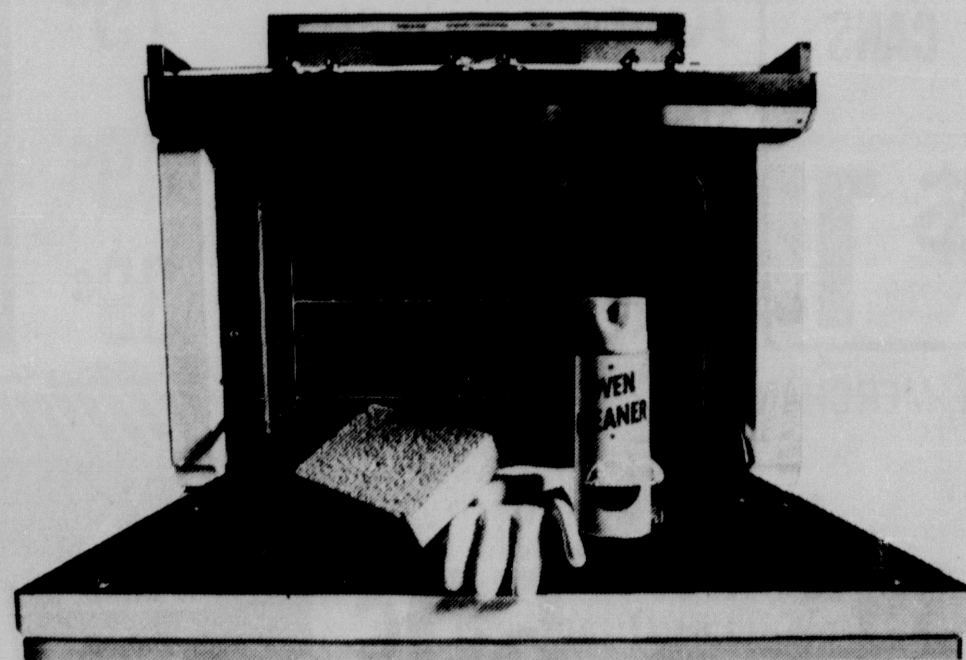

Think what this means. Never again will you have to go through the grimy job of scrubbing an oven (most women hate this job more than any other).

Never again will you have to face an all day cleaning job—because you've put it off too long.

The gas continuous cleaning oven is just one of many exciting features on today's gas ranges. See them at your appliance dealer, or Lone Star Gas.

Small Blackland Farmers Must Remain Competitive

COLLEGE STATION

Small farmers striving to remain competitive in the Texas Blacklands should plan to either increase their farm acreage or make more efficient use of their equipment, according to two agricultural specialists at Texas A&M University.

"Many farms in the Blacklands area are undersized from the standpoint of efficiency, and they may find themselves at an increasing disadvantage," reported Carl G. Anderson and Dr. D. S. Moore of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

One of the major agricultural sectors of the state, the Blacklands is a large, wedge-shaped area extending through Central Texas from the Red River south to San Antonio. The 19-county region is 300 miles long and up to 75 miles wide and contains the cities of Sherman, Dallas, Waco and Austin.

In their study, the researchers tried to determine what size farm operations would be most efficient, given five different combinations of farm equipment and labor. In each case, they assumed the ideal farm operation devoted two-thirds of its land to cotton and grain sorghum and the rest to a spring calving cow-calf enterprise.

Results of the analysis indicated that with operations of less than 500 acres, the use of four-row equipment likely would be most advantageous. Higher acreages, however, should require six-row equipment to maximize profits.

The researchers found that for a one-man farm with four-row equipment, nearly 200 acres are required to break even. By contrast, a 1,400-acre farm operated by two men with six-row units had the greatest potential efficiency.

If additional land were not available, or if the proper labor force could not be fully utilized, the analysts suggested returns to management could be increased by adding a small hog enterprise.

Anderson and Moore found few farms in the Blacklands that were of the size required for maximum efficiency. In 1964 there were 30,000 farms in the Blacklands, with an average size of not more than 270 acres. There were less than 4,000 farms of more than 500 acres; nevertheless, they accounted for more than 40 per cent of the total farm acreage in the area.

In presenting their analysis, the researchers emphasized that their sole criterion for optimum farm size was efficiency defined in terms of least-cost production. The study did not account for such factors as availability of skilled employees, the capabilities of farm managers, whether land tracts are contiguous or separated, or alternative methods of acquiring capital.

"What we are pointing out here," they said, "is that operators of small farms with high cost-income ratios are likely to find the pressure to adjust to larger and more efficient units increasingly great in the near future."

The counties composing the Blacklands include Grayson, Fannin, Lamar, Delta, Hunt, Collins, Dallas, Rockwall, Kaufman, Ellis, Navarro, Hill, McLennan, Limestone, Falls, Bell, Milam, Williamson and Travis.

Framing Safe

Lumber used for floor joists, roof rafters and wall studs and plates must be of sizes and grades required by building codes. Strength and stiffness of lumber is known from hundreds of laboratory tests—and a wide margin over these is specified for added safety.

Wallcovers Go Modern

NEW YORK (ED) - What can you do with wallpaper? What can't you do! Today's witty and wonderfully versatile wallcoverings not only do a job - the best are scrubable, strippable, even pre-pasted for easy hanging - but they're fully prepared to take on any decorating job you dream up.

Even a child's room - normally an impossible pairing of demands for practicality and good looks - is child's play. A combination of a smart soft-fit border - Imperial Wall-paper makes them in the 18" width, for many trimming assignments - with a coordinating wallcovering lets you decorating go as fashionably far as your imagination will take you.

Or go colorfully modern with smashing young pattern play. The outside scale that sets off simple furnishings at their dramatic best is seen in the new Right On collection of vinyl wallcoverings. Patterns run to strong geometrics, exploded plaids, up-scaled flowers Mother Nature never knew.

No more dowdy bouquets on this year's fashionable young walls! And for the young-at-heart, what could be nicer?

Above: Re-doing a child's room? Child's play! The Toyland E-Z-Du Soffit Border boxes in a bed, to harmonize with soldier-trimmed striped walls. Paint furniture fronts and pick room-wide colorings from the same patriotic red-white-and-blue palette. A professional decorator couldn't do better!

Right: Go modern with all-over shimmering squares, from Imperial's Right On collection. The metallic paper-work brings up the sparkle of modern materials. And the bold pattern is just what's needed to give substance to today's simplified furnishings... a sure way for mini-budgets to make a max-style statement, fast.

Snowmobile Carries You And Woman Fur Trapper Your Stars

CANDLE LAKE, Sask. Each morning during the winter Sophie Hayes takes off on her snowmobile for a trip over a 35-mile area to check her more than 150 traps.

Mrs. Hayes, one of four women trappers in this area 50 miles northeast of Prince Albert, has been working trap lines for more than 35 years. She started a regular routine on her honeymoon.

Trapping fur-bearing animals was tough in those days, she said in an interview. Traps had to be checked every two or three days and she was on the trail from morning until night, carrying a pack sack and making her way on snowshoes.

"That was something I learned on my honeymoon - how to walk on snowshoes."

She'd done a little trapping with her brothers "for fun." But when she married Wally Hayes, she joined the trapping life for good.

They started their married life trapping in the gold-fields area in northwestern Saskatchewan. She was the first white woman in the area.

Dog teams and walking were the only ways to get around then. Mrs. Hayes said she can skin an animal "just as well as any trapper." This used to be done on the trail as well and she had to learn to do it.

Now that the mode of transportation has changed, she puts her catch in the snowmobile and does the skinning and stretching of furs in a special basement room in their new home in Candle Lake.

Most trappers are conservation-minded and use their judgment to avoid over-trapping in any one area and so depleting the population of any animal. Mrs. Hayes said. They change their trapping area each year.

The most common animals are the Connie bear, o'ter, fox mink, muskrat, squirrel, weasel and ermine being the smaller types and coyote, timber wolves, lynx and beaver the larger varieties.

She believes in using traps that kill the animal instantly. As well as trapping, the Hayes often act as guides for hunters. "They're usually shocked to see a woman on the trapline," she said.

Glorified real estate advertising is hardly new. When Eric the Red discovered Greenland in 982, he gave the Arctic island its misleading name in a successful bid to attract Viking colonists.

An Open Letter FROM YOUR STATE REPRESENTATIVE'S WIFE

Because Dan Kubiak feels that it is important for the people of his district to understand his job completely, there are certain facts that should be presented. A state representative's annual salary is $4800.00 per year. This base pay after taxes amounts to approximately $291.00 per month. With the cost of living as it is, a legislator has to have some other means of yearly income to maintain his home and raise his family in a decent and presentable manner to himself and his community.

As a result, Dan Kubiak has made investments through legitimate loans, and converted a portion of land into an apartment and housing project. This complex has been an addition to the city in which he lives and gives additional tax value to the city, county, and school district. These loans, which will take 40 years to pay off, were obtained through FHA and are available to anyone who wishes to take of his energy to make application and has land to make such an application practicable.

Dan Kubiak knows that honesty is a needed necessity in government service, and he has dedicated his work as your representative to bring this about. His expense allowance provided by state-law, he uses to maintain a full time office for his district. This office is open five days a week, and he employs a full time secretary out of his expense allowance to keep this office available for his constituents in his district. Many of our present legislators do not do this, and this service is not available for the people of those districts.

Dan Kubiak has not used a cent of his expense allowance for travel, refurbishing his library, or unnecessary items that would not pertain to his work as your representative. He has never been overdrawn on his legislative expense account and has protected the taxpayer's money.

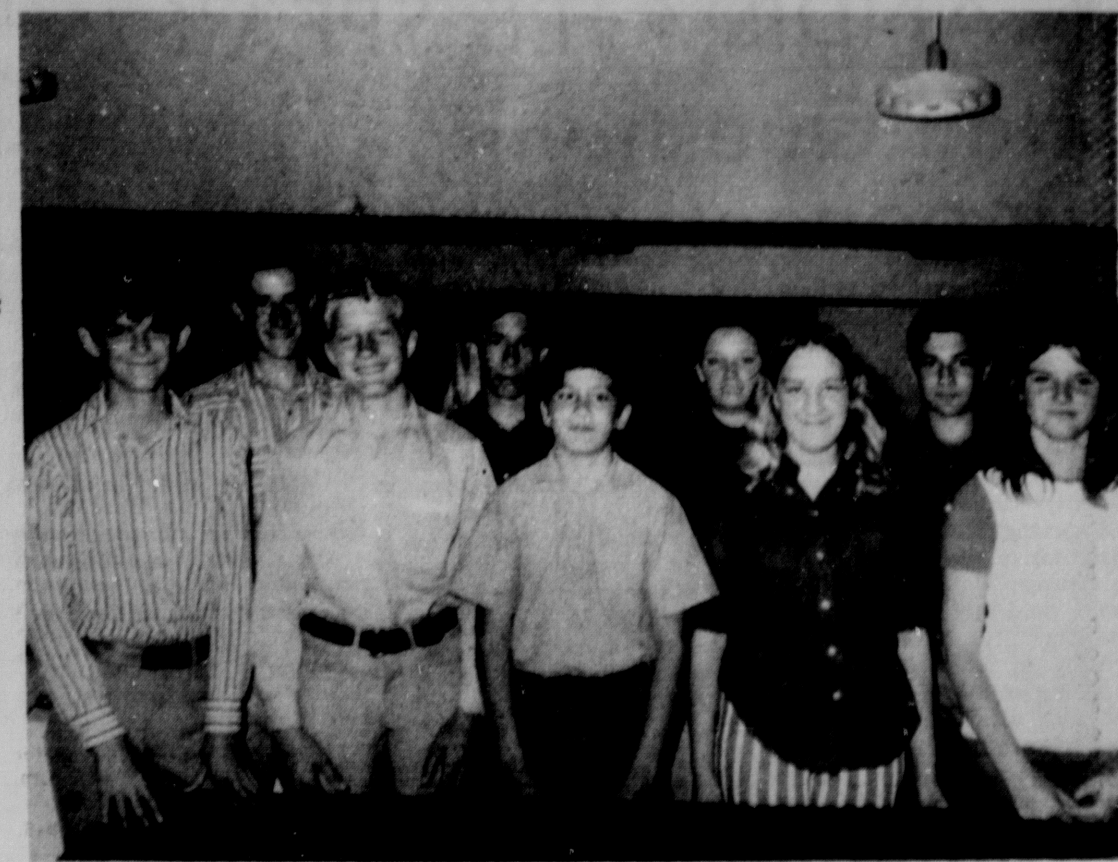

In all respects a legislator to be independent of lobby pressures and power groups has to have some additional means of income. Dan Kubiak has been and will continue to be a representative of all the people of his district. He has never neglected the needs of any people of his district in any area.

Leaving his family many times to serve constituents, Dan Kubiak has dedicated his efforts toward bringing honesty and integrity in government. He has never bent to any pressure group or any powerful man. He has worked on the local, county, and state level to be honest, fair, and to do a good job for you.

Candidate For 36 District

Legislator Overspent On Expense Account

by GLEN CASTLEBURY
Capitol Staff
Austin-American Statesman

Rep. Charles Patterson of Taylor, even after $3,140 in help from fellow House members, is running a $3,312 deficit on his legislative expense account.

Patterson's account has been in the red since May, 1971. In every month but one during the first seven months of this fiscal year, Patterson's expenses have exceeded—once more than triple—the $875 a month expense allowance House members voted for themselves last year.

The Taylor lawmaker, locked in a tight re-election battle with Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale, has blamed his expense deficit on the work of a house item committee studying public school financing. Patterson and Kubiak are both ardently courting voters in Falls County.

Kubiak and Patterson are both seeking third terms in the House. Under the redistricting both were placed in the 36th, made up of Falls, Milam and Williamson counties.

Kubiak has criticized Patterson for printing campaign literature at state expense which was mailed to all voters in Falls and Milam Counties in which Patterson represented himself as already being those counties' elected legislator.

The public school financing committee chairman, Rep. Paul Silber of San Antonio, said Friday that, while Patterson may have done committee work on his own behalf, he had not been assigned any work by the full committee and that the committee hasn't used his office, staff or equipment at all.

Patterson was appointed to the committee by former Speaker Gus Mutscher on Jan. 18, 1972. One of Patterson's largest expense items—more than equal to his deficit during the past seven months—is equipment rental, apparently most of it for an "MTST" machine, an automatic typewriter for mass letter production that Patterson shares with Rep. Fred Head of Troup.

Head, who is challenging Speaker Rayford Price for re-election in their home district in East Texas, during the past seven months has "transferred" $1,140 of his expense allowance to Patterson's account to pay his share of the MTST machine costs.

Patterson also received transfers, which help cut down his deficit, since last September of $1,000 from Rep. Jack Hawkins of Groesbeck; $500 from Republican Rep. Sonny Jones of Houston; and $500 from Rep. Billy Williamson of Tyler.

Williamson is also a member of the interim school financing study committee. Hawkins, who gave Patterson's account the $1,000 transfer in November, had a $16,000 surplus balance in his account at the time.

Patterson last week nominated Hawkins, who isn't seeking re-election, for Speaker of the House in order to avoid voting for either Price or Rep. Dewitt Hale of Corpus Christi. Kubiak joined Patterson in voting for Hawkins on the first ballot and both abstained from voting in the Price-Hale runoff.

Patterson's big expenses since the fiscal year started in September have been $3,645 for equipment rentals, $1,560 for telephones and $1,366 for salaries. After his first deficit of $360 at the end of May, 1971, Patterson started this fiscal year Sept. 1 with a deficit of $1,427.

His monthly expenses have run $1,192 in September, $692 in October, $1,713 in November $1,061 in December, $1,597 in January, $2,675 in February and $1,343 in March.

In the past, members running deficits in their accounts have received monthly memos from former House administration committee chairman Rep. Tommy Shannon calling their deficit to their attention and urging them to hold down their spending.

But Shannon, who has been replaced by Rep. James Cole of Greenville, never felt he had authority to cut off members who topped the $875 a month set by simple house resolution.

CANDIDATES SPEAK...

Hall Questions Opponents Votes

Senator Ralph Hall, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, took aim at his three major opponents during a helicopter campaign tour of East Texas April 6 and 7, saying that two of the candidates were running on their family names and a third distorting his stand on the food tax bill in 1969.

Senator Hall, from Rockwall, said that Senator Wayne Connally and William P. Hobby of Houston are both running on the family names, without a proven record or experience to fully qualify them for the office of Lieutenant Governor.

He also questioned the stand of Senator Connally and Senator Joe Christie on the Senate vote on the sales tax on food in 1969.

"Senator Connally and Senator Christie have both given very curious explanations for the help they gave to the passage of the food tax through the Senate in 1969," Hall said, during a two-day helicopter tour of 24 East Texas cities.

He said that Senator Connally has given three different reasons for voting for the food tax. "Senator Connally first said he voted for the grocery tax because he was in favor of it. Then it was because Lt. Governor Barnes told him to vote for it. And now it is because he wanted to include beer under the sales tax. It is finally time for him to be able to say simply that he was wrong in voting for it," Hall said.

"I have said many times that my vote for the food tax was a mistake, and I will continue to say it, with no involved explanations or alibis. I am, however, unalterably opposed to any attempt to pass such a measure again," Hall declared.

He said that Connally, prior to his vote for the food tax, had voted to accept a conference report on the tax bill which did not include a beer tax, and in a later special session that year he voted against Senate passage of a tax bill which did contain a sales tax on beer.

"Senator Connally also voted against an amendment to the 1971 Liquor Tax Bill, which would have raised the beer tax, so his latest food tax explanation simply does not hold water in view of his voting record on beer," Hall said.

He said that Christie's explanation of why he walked from the Senate floor and did not vote on a motion to end the filibuster against the food tax is equally suspicious.

Cong. Poage Caravan To Stop Here

Cong. Bob Poage will lead his supporters on an old-fashioned political caravan through Central Texas on Friday, April 21.

The tour will begin at Temple at 7:45 a.m. and two or three buses will be used to transport several dozen of Cong. Poage's backers throughout the day-long trip.

Poage, who is running for re-election as 11th District Congressman, will speak and campaign at each stop on the 16-city tour.

Afternoon stops include, in order, Thorndale, Rockdale, Milano, Cameron, Rosebud, Lott, Marlin, and then back to Temple.

Local chairmen making arrangements for the bus caravan include Jim Camp, Hilliard Thomas and Richard Williams of Cameron.

Jamie H. Clements, Temple mayor who is chairman of the bus tour for Cong. Poage, said that any persons in the cities to be visited who want to join the caravan in their private cars are welcome to do so.

Watson Speaks To Teachers

WACO

State Sen. Murray Watson of Mart spoke to a meeting of the Waco Teachers' Association Wednesday, April 5. Sen. Watson, who is challenging Cong. W. R. Poage for the 11th Congressional District seat, spoke on the problems in financing education to a group of approximately 75 teachers.

Sen. Watson, who has served in the Texas Senate since 1963, told the group of his efforts in the Senate to improve salaries and working conditions for teachers. He was the author of bills in the Texas Senate that created pay raises and sick-leave pay for teachers.

During the 62nd Legislature (1971), he voted for legislation instruction all school districts to specify the duties of each position of employment, providing that no employee shall be liable for certain acts incident to the duties of his job.

During the 61st Legislature (1969), Senator Watson voted to provide every teacher with daily planning and preparation time. He also voted during the 60th Legislature (1967) to require school districts to employ teachers by probationary or continuing contracts.

Sen. Watson said that the public forum on education is shifting from Austin to Washington more and more. "I have worked diligently for teachers in Austin and will continue to do so in Washington. I have a school-age child myself and am aware of the need for quality education as well as better conditions for teachers," he stated.

CONFUCIUS

Confucius now is belittled in China and his shrines ransacked. Stressing the ethical responsibility of individuals, his teachings undermine authoritarian government. His books were burned once before -- in 213 B.C. by the Ch'in dictatorship, the National Geographic Society says. But the Ch'in were overthrown after 14 years and the Han dynasty that followed made Confucianism the base for all education in China.

Hobby Raps Senators

Bill Hobby, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, challenged two of his opponents -- Senators Joe Christie and Wayne Connally -- to explain to the people of Texas their reasons for seeking to defeat or render ineffective the Highway Beautification Act.

In particular, Hobby pointed to the legislative actions of Senator Connally wherein he sought to defeat the Beautification Bill of Senator Jim Wallace. Hobby referred to Connally's action as a blatant disregard of the environmental concerns of Texans.

At the same time, Hobby questioned Senator Christie's motives in diluting the effectiveness of Senator Wallace's bill.

Hobby said, "I wholeheartedly endorse Senator Wallace's Highway Beautification Bill since it provided the effective means to make beautification of our Texas highways a reality."

Senator Christie for reasons best known to him was able to significantly reduce the effectiveness of Senator Wallace's bill. Hobby said, "Both Connally and Christie owe the people of Texas an explanation for their actions which were not clearly in the best interests of Texas."

GOP Hopeful Says Demos Can't 'Clean Their House'

The Democratic Party of Texas will "never be able to clean its own house of the filth of political corruption," charges Republican gubernatorial hopeful Dave Reagan.

"That's why the only answer is a solid Republican reform governor" the 33-year-old Austin College professor said from the "hot seat" at the Dallas Press Club.

Reagan heralded the conviction of House Speaker Gus Mutscher and two other prominent Texas Democrats in Abilene as "the dawning of a new era" for Texas voters.

"We've finally taken that first step," he noted. "Now we need to make the sweep clean and get them out of power for good."

Reagan, who characterizes himself as a conservative, favors an in-depth revision of the Texas constitution and some major belt tightening in government expenditures.

"Welfare is the number one area where we could tighten up," he said. "We

Robnett Pledges Modern Treasury

FORT WORTH

State Treasurer candidate Nolan Robnett told the Fort Worth Junior Bar "the state of Texas could have solved some of its current money problems 30 years ago if incumbent Treasurer Jesse James had used good common sense and good business sense."

He said James long ago should have created a special team of forecasters to determine as accurately as possible exactly how much in state funds the State Treasurer would need to maintain in open checking accounts to honor state warrants.

Robnett said all other funds should be kept invested in interest-bearing time deposits to get full use of the money, provide extra revenue to the state, and ease the burden of Texas taxpayers.

Robnett said "James has arbitrarily put 50% of all state funds in open checking accounts drawing no interest, a practice he has perpetuated over the 30 years he has been in office. Last year, that practice cost Texas taxpayers approximately $6 million in new taxes because that money did not earn any interest. That's $12 million in revenue lost over the biennium. Just thinking about the amount of money lost to the state from interest revenues during the last 30 years is staggering," said Robnett.

Robnett pledged to "Modernize the State Treasury and introduce this money-saving method of forecasting needed revenue to the practice of state fiscal management. If this is not done, the taxpayer will not get full use out of his tax dollar, and will have to dig deeper into his pocket to make up the difference. There is no reason why he should continue to bear that additional burden."

Robnett also pledged "to end the system of favoritism involved with James' selection of state banks as depositories of state funds."

Briscoe Campaign Quickens

AUSTIN

Dolph Briscoe, the Uvalde rancher who is running for governor on the Democratic ticket, stepped up the tempo of his campaign this week with primary election day less than a month away.

He continued to stress his principal theme - a return to honesty and morality in state government - and received encouraging indications that a groundswell is building up that has put him ahead of the field.

Two East Texas daily newspapers, the Longview News-Journal and the Jacksonville Progress, and the Azle News, a weekly, have endorsed Briscoe's candidacy within the past week. This brought to more than 20 the number of Texas dailies and weeklies editorially supporting Briscoe, with others being heard from almost daily.

Local polls likewise show a surprising preponderance of Briscoe support in many areas of the state. For example, Hal Cunningham, editor of the Llano News, took an impromptu, unannounced, secret poll of a community gathering of business people, and a number of young people, in his city last week. The results were: Briscoe, 54; Ben Barnes, 21; Gov. Preston Smith, 3; Frances Farenthold, 2; undecided, 7.

Bell Announces Big Expansion

Southwestern Bell has announced a record $484 million expansion program in Texas during 1972 to stay ahead of the growing demands for telephone services.

Despite a generally dull economy last year, the expansion is $39 million more than the amount spent for new plant and equipment during 1971, according to H. D. Schodde, the company's vice president for Texas.

Schodde pointed out that the company's Texas operations in 1971 showed "very good" growth over the same period during 1970.

He said that the company added nearly 265,000 phones to its network in Texas during 1971, bringing the total Southwestern Bell phones in service in the state to more than 5.3 million. He said that another 304,000 are expected to be added during 1972.

Schodde also noted that along with the increase in telephones, customers in Texas used their phones more in 1971 than ever before. As an example, he pointed out that the number of completed Long Distance calls on the average business day increased by more than 57,000 to a total of more than 907,000 in the state, of the largest employers in the state with a work force of just under 34,000. Payroll for Southwestern Bell employees jumped nearly $22 million to more than $294 million annually.

Friends Of Congressman Poage Ask Questions

Our Congressman's views are pretty well known on most important issues. He has cast record votes on most of them. His opposition has the right to criticize but with this right goes a responsibility to tell the people just how their candidate stands.

We believe in fairness that the Congressman's opponent should state just how he stands on:

1. The Rural Development Bill Mr. Poage recently passed through the House (now in the Senate)?
2. The bill Mr. Poage has introduced to require the Federal government to pay for the loss of livestock killed by predators in view of the government's prohibition on the use of poisons?
3. The Poage-Aiken bill under which we have built hundreds of rural water and sewer systems?
4. The Poage-Hill rural telephone bill?
5. The School Milk Program which was made permanent by Mr. Poage's action?
6. The Student Loan Program which Mr. Poage supported?
7. A sales tax on groceries which Mr. Poage says is an unfair burden on the poor?

Mr. Poage's opponent has described him as a "negative force" in Congress. Just what constructive programs in our State bear this opponent's name?

Credit Union Earns Award

A Rockdale credit union has earned a Thrift Honor Award for its success in stimulating savings among small savers, according to Buford B. Lankford, regional director of the National Credit Union Administration.

The Rockdale Works Federal Credit Union attained a monthly rate of growth of 22.9 percent in share accounts $20,000 and under. This growth rate was substantially above the average for Federal credit unions of similar size, according to Lankford.

On January 31, 1972, the credit union had 561 members who had saved a total of $162,332. The credit union serves employees of the Aluminum Company of America, Rockdale Works, and of the Rockdale-Sandow and Southern Railroad, a wholly-owned subsidiary, who work in Milam County; members of their immediate families; and was chartered in 1970.

Ben Ford is president of the credit union and Milton B. Curtis is treasurer.
